Poetics of Repair Katarzyna Pieprzak, 2024-12-13 Today most colonial era modernist mass housing is seen as fundamentally broken crumbling concrete spaces of social alienation and containment that fractured societies both then and now In Poetics of Repair Katarzyna Pieprzak examines how contemporary visual literary and performance art of the Maghreb has the potential to change the terms histories and imagined futures of mass housing in North Africa and France Pieprzak dives deeply into contemporary art engagements with three mass housing sites that epitomize the French colonial geography of modernist architecture in the Maghreb She identifies in this art what she names a transformative poetics of repair a practice that conjoins puts in relation or simply brings closer together broken materials separated people and severed timelines Reading art and its engagements with mass housing Pieprzak argues has the potential to unmoor established knowledge and rehearse the tensions and productive ambiguities inherent to practices of constitution and revision She demonstrates that such a reading practice is a step toward a reparative epistemology for mass housing that turns sites of wreckage and alienation into sites of possible solidarities and new formulations of history and experience Dream,

Creativity, and Madness in Nineteenth-Century France Tony James, 1995-12-28 This is an important new analysis of the problematic relationship between dreams and madness as perceived by nineteenth century French writers thinkers and doctors Those wishing to know the nature of madness wrote Voltaire should observe their dreams The relationship between the dream state and madness is a key theme of nineteenth century European and specifically French thought The meaning of dreams and associated phenomena such as somnambulism ecstasy and hallucinations including those induced by hashish preoccupied writers philosophers and psychiatrists In this path breaking cross disciplinary study Tony James shows how doctors such as Esquirol Llut and Janet thinkers including Maine de Biran and Taine and writers for example Balzac Nerval Baudelaire Victor Hugo and Rimbaud grappled in very different ways with the problems raised by the so called phenomena of sleep Were historical figures such as Socrates or Pascal in fact mad Might dream be a source of creativity rather than a merely subsidiary automatic function What of lucid dreaming By exploring these questions Dreams Madness and Creativity in Nineteenth Century France makes good a considerable gap in the history of pre Freudian psychology and sheds new and fascinating light on the central French writers of the period Conversation-book in French and English for the Use of

 Michael Baumgartner,Ewelina Boczkowska,2019-09-23 In the wake of World War II the arts and culture of Europe became a site where the devastating events of the 20th century were remembered and understood Exploring one of the most integral elements of the cinematic experience music the essays in this volume consider the numerous ways in which post war European cinema dealt with memory trauma and nostalgia showing how the music of these films shaped the representation of the past The contributors consider films from the United Kingdom Poland the Soviet Union France Italy Germany Sweden Austria and the Netherlands providing a diverse and well rounded understanding of film music in the context of historical memory Memory is often underrepresented within scholarly musical studies with most of these applications found in the disciplines of ethnomusicology popular music studies music cognition and psychology and music therapy Likewise trauma has mainly been studied in relation to music in only a few historical contexts while nostalgia has attracted even less academic attention In three parts this volume addresses each area of study as it relates to the music of European cinema from 1945 to 1989 applying an interdisciplinary approach to investigate how films use music to negotiate the precarious relationships we maintain with the past Music Collective Memory Trauma and Nostalgia in European Cinema after the Second World War
