Metrospiritual Sean Benesh, 2011-02-24 Metrospiritual The Geography of Church Planting is about church planting in the city There is an outpouring of new expressions of church being started throughout metro areas across North America Where are these new churches being started Maybe a more subterranean question is Why Why are churches being started where they are and why is there a bias towards one part of the city and an overall neglect of other parts Metrospiritual explores these questions and more as it builds off of recent research and surveys of hundreds of church planters in seven large cities in the United States and Canada There is a deeper look at pivotal issues such as gentrification the Creative Class community transformation urban renewal and the role new churches play in all of these The Multi-Nucleated Church Sean

Benesh, 2015-01-18 For too long church planting literature and training has been primarily focused on starting churches in low density parts of our cities predicated upon auto based commuting patterns However the reality of the global city is that millions upon millions of people worldwide do not live that kind of lifestyle Rather life revolves around getting from Point A to Point B via on foot bicycle or public transportation What would church planting then look like with those common transportation realities Instead of basing strategies and methodologies on a car based lifestyle The Multi Nucleated Church reduces the scale to walkable neighborhoods districts city centers and central cities The common denominator is truly high density urban contexts The Multi Nucleated Church explores the theoretical framework of constructing an ecclesiology that finds its home in the multi nucleated high density mega global city Urban Church Planting Stephen M. Davis, 2019-11-12 For the last couple decades urban church planting has been all the rage This has been a blessing for the city This has also been a curse for many who sensed a call saw a need and left for a life of adventure only to leave the city after a short time Many left behind no church and live with memories of failure and frustration They were eager well supported not a little naive and unprepared for life and ministry in the city Urban church planting is not for everyone It is not more important than church planting elsewhere But if you believe God has called you to urban ministry read this book before you go It is written by a city guy freed from the romanticism often associated with planting churches in the city If after reading this you still believe God is calling you to the city then by all means go If not know that God can use you elsewhere
