Experiencing Ritual Experiencing Ritual:

Experiencing Ritual Edith Turner, 1992-03 Experiencing Ritual is Edith Turner's account of how she sighted a spirit form while participating in the Ihamba ritual of the Ndembu. Through her analysis she presents a view not common in anthropological writings: the view of millions of Africans that ritual is the harnessing of spiritual power.

Experiencing Ritual Edith L. B. Turner, 1992 The scene is Zambia in 1985. A patient has been invaded by the tooth of a dead hunter, a spirit object which causes her much pain. Only a drum ritual can cure it. The company starts to sing and drum and when at last the dramatic climax breaks the anthropologist sees a six inch blob, a kind of plasma or gray spherical ghost emerging from the patient's back. Experiencing Ritual is Edith Turner's account of how she sighted a spirit form while participating in the Ihamba ritual of the Ndembu. Turner's experience with the Ndembu is extensive from 1951 to 1954; she and her husband, the preeminent anthropologist Victor Turner, conducted fieldwork among them. This fieldwork formed the basis for Victor Turner's highly influential work The Drums of Affliction. In that study Victor Turner analyzed the Ihamba in terms of its social and psychological functions but dismissed the Ndembu view that the real context of the Ihamba is spiritual. When Edith Turner returned to the Ndembu in 1985 she learned what she and Victor did not learn during their early fieldwork: how to understand the Ihamba in Ndembu terms. Through her richly detailed analysis of the ritual and her willingness to make the spirit central to her analysis she presents a view not common in anthropological writings: the view of millions of Africans that ritual is the harnessing of spiritual power. This provocative and challenging work will be of interest to students and scholars of anthropology, African studies, and religious studies.

Experiencing Ritual Edith Turner, 2011-06-03 Experiencing Ritual is Edith Turner's account of how she sighted a spirit form while participating in the Ihamba ritual of the Ndembu. Through her analysis she presents a view not common in anthropological writings: the view of millions of Africans that ritual is the harnessing of spiritual power.

Senses, Cognition, and Ritual Experience in the Roman World Blanka Misic, Abigail Graham, 2024-01-25 How do the senses shape the way we perceive, understand, and remember ritual experiences? This book applies cognitive and sensory approaches to Roman rituals, reconnecting readers with religious experiences as members of an embodied audience. These approaches allow us to move beyond the literate elites to examine broader audiences of diverse individuals who experienced rituals as participants and/or performers. Case studies of ritual experiences from a variety of places, spaces, and contexts across the Roman world, including polytheistic and Christian rituals, state rituals, private rituals, performances, and processions, demonstrate the dynamic and broad-scale application that cognitive approaches offer for ancient religion, paving the way for future interdisciplinary engagement. ecological devastation Savransky draws on the pragmatic pluralism of William James to develop what Savransky calls a pluralistic realism an understanding of the world as simultaneously one and many ongoing and unfinished underway and yet to be made Savransky explores the radical multifariousness of reality by weaving key aspects of James s thought together with divergent worlds and stories of Magellan s circumnavigation sorcery in Mozambique God s felt presence among a group of evangelicals in California visible spirits in Zambia and ghosts in the wake of the 2011 tsunami in Japan Throughout he experiments with these storied worlds to dramatize new ways of approaching the politics of radical difference and the possibility of transforming reality By exploring and constructing relations between James s pluralism and the ontological turn in anthropology Savransky offers a new conceptualization of the pluriverse that fosters modes of thinking and living otherwise
