Experiments With Life Itself Spanish Edition:

Experiments with Life Itself Francisco Gonzalez de Canales, 2013-01-15 Every book relating the history of modern architecture features a large number of pages dedicated to avant garde designs and the formation of the modern movement in the interwar years and a similar number devoted to reconstruction and expansion after the Second World War Meanwhile as if owing to lack of understanding or convenient silence there is void of dark years of wars exile and misfortune about which little can be said However it was in these dark times as in so many other revealing moments in the history of culture that experimental and profoundly invigorating experiences were taking place Architects and artists voluntarily or forcibly driven to the margins of social importance began to react to a culturally unsustainable situation of which we know very little even today In Experiments with Life Itself Francisco Gonzalez de Canales studies a series of unrelated cases from the late 1930s to the late 1950s that he refers to as domestic self experimentation Abstracts of Theses University of New Mexico, 1929 Journal of Experimental Pedagogy and Training College Record, 1923 Report of the ...
