Introducing Human Geographies Paul Cloke, Philip Crang, Mark Goodwin, 2013-12-05. Introducing Human Geographies is the leading guide to human geography for undergraduate students, explaining new thinking on essential topics and discussing exciting developments in the field. This new edition has been thoroughly revised and updated, and coverage is extended with new sections devoted to biogeographies, cartographies, mobilities, non-representational geographies, population geographies, public geographies, and securities. Presented in three parts with 60 contributions written by expert international researchers, this text addresses the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject. Part I: Foundations engages students with key ideas that define human geography's subject matter and approaches through critical analyses of dualisms such as local/global, society/space, and human/nonhuman. Part II: Themes explores human geography's main sub-disciplines with sections devoted to biogeographies, cartographies, cultural geographies, development geographies, economic geographies, environmental geographies, historical geographies, political geographies, population geographies, social geographies, urban and rural geographies. Finally, Part III: Horizons assesses the latest research in innovative areas from mobilities and securities to non-representational geographies. This comprehensive, stimulating, and cutting-edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full-colour figures, maps, and photos. These are available to download on the companion website located at www.routledge.com/9781444135350.

Key Thinkers on Space and Place Mary Gilmartin, Phil Hubbard, Rob Kitchin, Sue Roberts, 2024-05-11. Space and place are at the heart of how geographers and sociologists think. This updated edition of the essential undergraduate text will introduce you to the most influential thinkers in the tradition of social theory with a new focus on the past fifty years. This book is designed to engage with theoretical debates in human geography through the individuals who have made the most significant contributions to this field. This will show you how ideas are shaped by contexts and how those ideas in turn effect change. This book shows how theoretical understandings evolve, shift, and change. It also highlights the connections between different thinkers whose ideas are developed in collaboration with or in reaction to others. Spatial thought is never developed in a vacuum but is always constructed by individuals and groups of people located in particular institutional and social structures with their own sets of personal and political beliefs. The biographical approach of this book reveals how individual thinkers draw on a rich legacy of ideas from past and contemporary generations. With increased coverage of international and female thinkers as well as those who work against

Eurocentric notions of space and place this book reveals the exciting reorientation of Geography towards new ideas and methods in the last decade Each entry contextualises its subject within on going inter disciplinary debates and important political moments as well as highlighting connections between different thinkers Together the chapters uncover the rich and diverse evolution of social theory equipping you with the foundational ideas of geographical thought Each entry offers the following components i a short biography ii an explanation of ideas iii an exploration of how their ideas have been used and critiqued iv a selective bibliography of key publications and key publications which review or critique

Introducing Human Geographies, Second Edition Paul Cloke, Philip Crang, Mark Goodwin, 2013-01-11 Introducing Human Geographies is a comprehensive stimulating and innovative introduction to human geography This second edition has been thoroughly revised and updated to build upon the success of the acclaimed first edition Now in full colour and with sixteen new chapters discussion points and glossary definitions in the margin it is even more accessible Part one discusses the principal ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject Part two examines each of the main sub fields cultural geography development geography economic geography environmental geography historical geography political geography rural geography social geography urban geography Part three demonstrates how different thematic interests are combined in cutting edge human geographical debates Introducing Human Geographies continues to be the essential textbook for first year undergraduate geography students taking introductory courses in human geography

Gender, Taste, and Material Culture in Britain and North America, 1700-1830 John Styles, Amanda Vickery, 2006 Between 1700 and 1830 men and women in the English speaking territories framing the Atlantic gained unprecedented access to material things The British Atlantic was an empire of goods held together not just by political authority and a common language but by a shared material culture nourished by constant flows of commodities Diets expanded to include exotic luxuries such as tea and sugar the fruits of mercantile and colonial expansion Homes were furnished with novel goods like clocks and earthenware teapots the products of British industrial ingenuity This groundbreaking book compares these developments in Britain and North America bringing together a multi disciplinary group of scholars to consider basic questions about women men and objects in these regions In asking who did the shopping how things were used and why they became the subject of political dispute the essays show the profound significance of everyday objects in the eighteenth century Atlantic world

The National Fabric Alison Goodrum, 2005-09 British fashion is characterized by oppositions punk versus pageantry anarchy versus monarchy Cool Britannia versus Rule Britannia Why has British fashion come to be so contradictory How are these contradictions employed to sell British What do they mean for consumers who buy British Through an examination of iconic fashion companies Paul Smith and Mulberry The National Fabric provides telling insights into the culture of contemporary fashion and the dilemmas of going global Goodrum argues that Britishness is characterized less through a particular look than through its ambiguities She shows how the apparently straightforward and economically driven process of globalizing British fashion is in fact far more culturally nuanced and locally embedded than has previously been suggested In examining the interplay between fashion and Britishness Goodrum redresses a longstanding omission in fashion theory which has been preoccupied with class gender and race rather than with national identity The Legacy of Colonialism Máire Ní Fhlathúin,1998 The North American City Maurice Yeates,1998 In the twenty five years since The North American City was first published urban geography has become one of the most important and vital areas in geography The fifth edition of this classic text has been thoroughly revised and expanded to include the wide range of urban interests and theoretical approaches being applied to urban questions today Beyond Supersessionism Vincent William Lloyd,2008 Swords & Ploughshares ,1995 Making Worlds Susan Hardy Aiken,1998 Representing a wide range of theoretical perspectives Making Worlds develops a provocative conversation about gender and spatiality in the interwoven material and symbolic environments we create For students and scholars in cultural studies geography literary criticism anthropology history and women s studies it offers new ways of thinking about space place and the spatial contexts of social thought and action In a Queer Place Kate Chedgzoy,Emma Francis,Murray Pratt,2002 How do lesbian gay and queer identities construct a relation to the institutions that are widely understood to form the basis of social belonging Starting from diverse theoretical perspectives the eleven essays in this volume further scholarly debate in the study of gender and sexuality by exploring the relation of non hetero sexualities to the geographies poetics and legalities of belonging Queer studies emerged initially in academic and activist spheres in the US and the field continues to be dominated by texts and experiences marked by those particular contemporary cultural contexts By contrast In a Queer Place shines fresh light on the very different locations of homo sexualities within British and European contexts and thus represents an important extension of the scope of lesbian and gay studies Each essay draws on multiple sources including historical and legal documents the texts of literature and popular culture ethnographic writings and personal experience In their attention to cultural historical and textual specifics the contributors deploy significant new research to elaborate fresh understandings of key concerns in the study of the social meanings of gender and sexuality Albanian Journal of Politics Arolda Elbasani,Ridvan Peshkopia,Ada Hyso,2008 The Albanian Journal of Politics AJP is a peer reviewed academic publication of the Albanian Political Science Association ALPSA The purpose of the Journal is to provide a publication venue and an academic forum for the study of Albanian politics and society AJP seeks to provide political insight on important problems as it emerges from rigorous broad based research and integrative thought AJP is published by Globic Press in Chapel Hill North Carolina Volume IV 2008 includes contributions from Luisa Chiodi Gezim Alpion Fatmir Haskaj Pinar Akcali and Enis Sulstarova on subjects such as civil society in Albania on how brain drain has affected most countries in Central South East and Eastern Europe and
