reference guide to the four main volumes in the MA series It presents the key findings of each of the working groups and meets the needs of policy makers and other professionals The summary also provides an overview of the framework used by the assessment and will serve as a guide for assessment planning and management for the future *Ecosystems and Human

Ecosystems and Human Well-being, 2005-01-01 Ecosystem changes time scales Ecosystems and Human Well-Being Millennium Ecosystem Assessment (Program). Sub-global Assessments Working Group, 2005-12-14 One of the major innovations of the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment is the incorporation of local and regional assessments 33 in all in a global portrait of the planet s health It is the first global assessment of ecosystems to include not only a diversity of ecosystems but to draw on a wide range of cultural orientations and intellectual traditions including those of indigenous peoples The Sub global Assessments Working Group integrated information from multiple sources and found that biophysical factors such as land use change climate change and variability pollution and invasive species have a significant effect on human well being across cultures For example in places where there are no other social safety nets diminished human well being tends to increase immediate dependence on ecosystem services which can damage the capacity of those local ecosystems which in turn appears to increase the probability of natural disaster or conflict Representing the baseline and framework for ongoing assessments of ecosystem and human well being on a variety of scales around the world Multiscale Assessments provides students researchers and policy makers with the most comprehensive methodology for assessing ecosystems at local national and regional scales Ecosystems and Human Well-Being Millennium Ecosystem Assessment, 2005-06 Ecosystems and Human Well being Scenarios Only by understanding the environment and how it works can we make the necessary decisions to protect it Only by valuing all our precious natural and human resources can we hope to build a sustainable future The Millennium Ecosystem Assessment is an unprecedented contribution to our global mission for development sustainability and peace Kofi Annan Secretary General of the United Nations Launched in June 2001 and involving more than 1 300 leading scientists from 95 nations the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment MA is a ground breaking study on how humans have altered ecosystems and how changes in ecosystem services affect human well being both now and in the future Integrating findings at the local regional global scales and from alternative intellectual traditions the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment offers the first truly comprehensive picture of the health of the planet This five volume set comprising four technical volumes and one summary volume provides an indispensable baseline of information for researchers scholars and students as well as inform public decision making for decades to come Books in the Five Volume Set Include Ecosystems and Human Well being Current State and Trends Volume 1 Ecosystems and Human Well being Scenarios Volume 2 Ecosystems and Human Well being Policy Responses Volume 3 Ecosystems and Human Well being Multiscale Assessments Volume 4 Ecosystems and Human Well being Our Human Planet Summary for Decision Makers Volume 5 The Millennium Ecosystem Assessment s work is overseen by a 45 member Board of Directors co chaired by Robert Watson Chief Scientist and Senior Advisor for the Environment of the Environmentally and Socially Sustainable Development Network of the World Bank and A H Zakri director of the United Nations University s Institute of Advanced Studies The Assessment Panel which oversees the technical work of the MA includes 13 of the world s leading social and natural scientists It is co chaired by Angela Cropper of the Cropper Foundation and Harold Mooney of Stanford University Walter Reid is the director of the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment Other Books from the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment Ecosystems and Human Well being Synthesis Report Ecosystems and Human Well being A Framework for Assessment

Ecosystems and Human Well-Being Neville Ash,2010-04-05 The Millennium Ecosystem Assessment MA is the most extensive study ever of the linkages between the world s ecosystems and human well being It is one of the most important conservation initiatives ever undertaken and the ecosystem services paradigm on which it is based provides the standard for practice This manual supplies the specific tools that practitioners of the paradigm need in order to extend their work into the future The manual is a stand alone how to guide to conducting assessments of the impacts on humans of ecosystem changes It builds on the experiences and lessons learned from the MA global and sub global assessment initiatives with chapters written by well known participants in those initiatives It also includes insights gained from service focused assessment activities since the completion of the MA in 2005 Restoring Natural Capital James Aronson,Suzanne J. Milton,James N. Blignaut,2012-09-26 How can environmental degradation be stopped How can it be reversed And how can the damage already done be repaired The authors of this volume argue that a two pronged approach is needed reducing demand for ecosystem goods and services and better management of them coupled with an increase in supply through environmental restoration Restoring Natural Capital brings together economists and ecologists theoreticians practitioners policy makers and scientists from the developed and developing worlds to consider the costs and benefits of repairing ecosystem goods and services in natural and socioecological systems It examines the business and practice of restoring natural capital and seeks to establish common ground between economists and ecologists with respect to the restoration of degraded ecosystems and landscapes and the still broader task of restoring natural capital. The book focuses on developing strategies that can achieve the best outcomes in the shortest amount of time as it considers conceptual and theoretical issues from both an economic and ecological perspective. It examines specific strategies to foster the restoration of natural capital and offers a synthesis and a vision of the way forward. Nineteen case studies from around the world illustrate challenges and achievements in setting targets, refining approaches to finding and implementing restoration projects and using restoration of natural capital as an economic opportunity. Throughout, contributors make the case that the restoration of natural capital requires close collaboration among scientists from across disciplines as well as local people and when successfully executed represents a practical, realistic and essential tool for achieving lasting sustainable development.

Managing Natural Resources for Development in Africa Washington Odongo Ochola, P. C. Sanginga, Isaac Bekalo, 2010. The complex and dynamic interlinks between natural resource management (NRM) and development have long been recognized by national and international research and development organizations and have generated voluminous literature. However, much of what is available in the form of university course books, practical learning manuals and reference materials in NRM is based on experiences from outside Africa. Managing Natural Resources for Development in Africa: A Resource Book provides an understanding of the various levels at which NRM issues occur and are being addressed scientifically, economically, socially and politically. The book's nine chapters present state of the art perspectives within a holistic African context. The book systematically navigates the tricky landscape of integrated NRM with special reference to Eastern and Southern Africa against the backdrop of prevailing local, national, regional and global social, economic and environmental challenges. The authors' wide experience, the rich references made to emerging challenges and opportunities and the presentation of different tools, principles, approaches, case studies and processes make the book a rich and valuable one-stop resource for postgraduate students, researchers, policymakers and NRM practitioners. The book is designed to help the reader grasp in depth NRM perspectives and presents innovative guidance for research design and problem solving, including review questions, learning activities and recommended further reading. The book was developed through a writeshop process by a multi-disciplinary team of lecturers from the University of Nairobi, Egerton University, Kenyatta University, the University of Zimbabwe, the University of Malawi.

Makerere University and the University of Dar es Salam In addition selected NRM experts from regional and international research organizations including the World Agroforestry Center ICRAF the Africa Forest Forum RUFORUM IIRR and the International Development Research Centre IDRC participated in the writeshop and contributed material to the book
